

I am very disappointed in a recent decision of the Federal Communications Commission in approving the use of the "F" word for use on any TV show or radio program, ANYTIME DAY OR NIGHT. According to the FCC, the word can be used whenever desired except in sexual situations. Needless to say, Hollywood is rejoicing. The indecency floodgates have now been opened, thanks to the FCC.

The FCC has the responsibility of enforcing what constitutes decency on our nation's airwaves. Why have they failed the American people in this responsibility? To whom is the FCC accountable?

This must be stopped now! Please investigate this matter and let me know about your findings. God bless you ... Todd
